

To Whom It May Concern:

Hello, I hope this letter finds you well and busy. I am writing to highly recommend an actress named Bri Ana Wagner. I have been working with her for months and I am shocked that she does not have a commercial or theatrical agent. Bri Ana is the real deal. I've yet to see her do anything in class that I didn't love. She is great at comedy and drama and always makes credible, subtle and natural choices.

I truly believe that Ms. Wagner could have a substantial career along the lines of Amy Adams, Julia Roberts and Jenna Fischer. She also sings and dances and could be the proverbial triple threat. Bri Ana is smart, intuitive and kind. She is also punctual, hardworking and always prepared. I believe in her and I think she could start booking co-stars and commercials right away.
